16. CONFLICT OF INTEREST

16.1 Client policies require that selected bidders under contracts provide professional, objective, and impartial advice and at all times hold the Client's interests paramount, avoid conflicts with other assignments or their own corporate interests and act without any consideration for future work. Bidders shall not be engaged for any assignment that would be in conflict with their prior or current obligations to other Clients, or that may place them in a position of not being able to carry out the assignment in the best interest of Client. Without limitation on the generality of the foregoing, bidders, and any of their associates shall be considered to have a conflict of interest and shall not be engaged under any of the circumstances set forth below:

a) If a Service Provider combines the function of service with those of contracting and/or supply of equipment; or

b) If a Service Provider is associated with or affiliated to a contractor or manufacturer; or

c) If a Service Provider is owned by a contractor or a manufacturing firm for the projects(s) under assignment. Offering services as bidders for the Service Provider should include relevant information on such relationships along with a statement in the Technical proposal cover letter to the effect that the Service Provider will limit its role to that of a Service Provider and disqualify itself and its associates from work, in any other capacity or any future project within the next five years (subject to adjustment by Client in special cases), that may emerge from this assignment (including bidding or any part of the future project). The contract with the Service Provider selected to undertake this assignment will contain an appropriate provision to such effect; or

d) If there is a conflict among consulting assignments, the Service Provider (including its personnel) and any subsidiaries or entities controlled by such Service Provider shall not be engaged for the relevant assignment.

17. FRAUD AND CORRUPT PRACTICE :-

Client requires that bidders to observe the highest standard of ethics during the selection process and in execution of contracts. In pursuance of this policy, the Client:

17.1 defines, for the purposes of this provision, the terms set forth below as follows:

(a) "corrupt practice" means the offering, giving, receiving, or soliciting, directly or indirectly, of any thing of value to influence the action of any party in the Service Provider selection process or in contract execution;

(b) "fraudulent practice" means a representation or omission of facts in order to influence a selection process or the execution of a contract;

(c) "collusive practices" means a scheme or arrangement between two or more bidders, designed to influence the action of any party in a Service Provider selection process or the execution of a contract;

(d) "coercive practices" means harming or threatening to harm, directly or indirectly, persons or their property to influence their participation in a Service Provider selection process, or affect the execution of a contract; and

17.2 Client will reject a proposal for award if it determines that the Service Provider recommended for award has directly, or through an agent, engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive, or coercive practices in competing for the contract in question;

17.3 Client will sanction a party or its successor, including declaring ineligible, either indefinitely or for a stated period of time, such party or successor from participation in Client-financed activities if it at any time determines that the Service Provider has, directly or through an agent, engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive or coercive practices in competing for, or in executing, an Client-financed contract; and

17.4 Client will have the right to require that, in Service Provider selection documentation and in contracts financed by the Client, a provision be included requiring bidders to permit the Client or its representative to inspect their accounts and records and other documents relating to Service Provider selection and to the performance of the contract and to have them audited by auditors appointed by the Client.

Spot cleaning	Dip a sponge into appropriate Solution mild and give a gentle wipe on the spots of the surface. The wiping should be done horizontally first and then vertically. Keep repeating the process till the spots disappear.
Damp	Give a complete dry mop to the surface and make sure that there are no solid dust particles. Then the mop has to be dipped in mild cleaning	R2 solution or clean water and it has to be squeezed to avoid water flooding. Then it has to be run on the surface to one half part first and then the other half of

Dry Mopping	The aim of dry mopping is to control the dusts so the mop should be handled in a straight position by the left hand near the handle and it has to be run in one direction ie. forward and then the backwards moping is done after covering some distance.
Scrubbing	Initially the entire surface should be given a complete dry moping such that there are no solid dust particles. Then the diluted R2 solution has to be used with a scrubbing machine having a red pad (in case of hard surfaces brushes shall be used). The water has to be sprinkled initially and the scrubbing is done parallel, at the end of the process the water has to be squeezed out by using vaccumisers and then a complete dry mopping has to be given.
Buffing	This is the next process for scrubbing and preferably to use white pads to make the surface shining and glossy
Vacuuming	Vacuuming should be done for both hard and soft surfaces where in the floor tool has to be adjusted to keep out the brush and the vacuuming should not be done some big solid particles are there.
Shampooing	Stain Removers shall be used to remove small stains on the carpet, the foam is generated by the machine and it has to be run on a circular motion, in case of deep stains good concentrated stain removers shall beused and a complete Vacuuming has to be done after the process and it should be allowed to dry naturally

- The general safety working practices recommended are as follows;

xi. Protective clothing

a. The appropriate clothing issued includes a uniform and, if appropriate (but not limited to), gloves, safety helmet, safety glasses, safety shoes, and safety harness. The cleaning operatives should also be informed to wear no jewellery, keep their hair tied back from the face, and to wear closed in shoes.

b. The provision of the protective clothing and the rules addressed serve two purposes:

c. To protect the cleaning operative and his/her personal clothing from damage;

d. To prevent cross infection for the protection of him/herself and others.

xii. Electrical equipment

The cleaning operative should:

a. Clean equipment thoroughly after each use;

b. Always switch off at the mains before connecting or disconnecting attachments to equipment or cleaning the machinery;

c. Handle plugs without touching pins;

d. Visually check equipment for faults both before and after use;

e. Report any faults to electrical equipment to the supervisor and not use the equipment if faulty. A broken/faulty machine shouldbe removed to the store area and arrangements made for its return to the engineering workshop;

f. Ensure that his/her hands are dry when touching electrical sockets or plugs;

g. Never allow cables to become taut at ankle height;

h. Ensure that cables are not trailing across corridors or traffic ways;

i. Ensure that equipment does not clutter up corridors, block fire escapes, or fire escape routes;

j. Always use caution signs when carrying out cleaning duties.

xiii. Manual equipment

The cleaning operative should ensure that when mopping floors he/she:

a. Does not over-wet the floor;

b. Always leaves a dry area for people to walk over;

c. Uses caution signs when carrying out cleaning duties;

d. Rinses all floors thoroughly.

xiv. Cleaning agents

a. The cleaning operative should:

b. Ensuring that the agents are always kept in a sealed container;

c. Ensure that the lid is securely fitted to the container;

d. Always keep the container under lock and key when not in use;

e. Always wear rubber gloves when physically handling cleaning agents;

f. Follow the instructions on the container of each agent;

g. Never mix two types of cleaning agent together;

h. Ensure that the oldest agents are always used first;

i. Know the Safety Symbols shown on containers;

j. Be aware that the Product Data Safety Sheet for all chemicals are held in the site office/appointed location.

xv. Safety Equipment

The cleaning operative should:

a. Follow safe lifting and carrying techniques by lifting with his/her knees bent and arms straight;

b. Be concerned with his/her own personal hygiene by:

c. Bathing and washing hair regularly;

d. Washing hands after each cleaning task;

e. Wearing clean clothing every day.

f. Not get distracted during cleaning operations as this may result in injury to self or others;

g. Ensure that he/she does not engage in any 'horseplay' as this may result in injury to self or others;

h. If applicable, follow the colour code system for cleaning equipment which is;

Blue – Offices/ General areas

Red – Toilets

Yellow – Meeting/ Conference Rooms

This is to prevent cross-infection from one area to another and this policy is mandatory for all employees where the system is implemented. On completion of training, the supervisor should ensure that each cleaning operative follows the training given and continues to work in a safe manner. A training checklist is completed for each employee and held on his or her personal file. The employee initials against each skill trained in and signs the form confirming that they have been trained in the safe working method indicated in the form.

xx. PEST CONTROL (RODENT PROOFING SERVICE, GENERAL SERVICE & TERMITE TREATMENT)

The toughest pest-control challenge is the growing public pressure to get rid of pests and pesticides at the same time. The public is keenly aware that both present potential health risks. Some of common pests includes ants, bees, birds, cats, crickets, flies, ground squirrels, mice, mosquitoes, pill bugs, rats, silverfish, spiders, stored-product pests, termites, wasps etc.

The groundwork Steps should be considered that help ensure that any pest-control program implemented will achieve the desired results and ensure the safety and health of employees as follows:

Assess the built-up property for signs of insects, such as flies, mosquitoes, spiders, ants, rodents and external areas for stray animals as well as weed infestations that threaten to overwhelm flowerbeds and grass areas.

Get information on treatments locally used or other authorities use, such as mosquito abatement or the introduction of one insect to control another. The goal is to make certain the treatment plan a manager selects is compatible with other programs in the area.

Select the appropriate control methods customized to the classes and combinations of pests detected within each class. Treatment locations and frequencies can become part of an annual preventive maintenance program.

Once the controls are in place, maintenance staff will have to check devices and areas regularly as recommended by the supplier to determine the results, whether that is the declining presence of pests or further action required due to changing conditions, seasons or weather patterns.

For example, termites look for food constantly. So when pest control personnel find termites in a detection device, one solution is to transfer them to a bait device. The termites burrow out of the bait device and return to their colony, leaving a scent trail to the bait device. Other termites from the colony follow the scent trail to the device, where they eat the bait. If the pest control program requires hazardous chemicals, such as some insect sprays, the Service Provider will have to keep material safety data sheets available to all who handle or use them and provide information and training in handling and use each time a new substance is purchased.

Service Provider also should make sure all products are properly labelled and contain appropriate warnings about hazards, use and handling as well as what to do in an emergency. If pest controls require hazardous chemicals, other solutions can be considered,n such as ultrasonic devices that repel rodents and require no chemicals, and continuously upgrade the program to more environmentally safe methods.

xxi. Common pests and strategies

Biting insects: One common class of pests includes biting insects — flies, mosquitoes. A number of pesticides and chemical fogs work well to combat these insects. A newer, more environmentally friendly approach involves a device that attracts the insects, vacuums them into a net and dehydrates them, causing them to die.

Termites: Termite control requires use of a class of pesticides called termicides.

Rodents: Rodents can be trapped or poisoned with a number of toxic pesticides.

Pest-control strategies: Developing a comprehensive, integrated pest-control program, after analyses of pest-control programs help maintenance team develop knowledge bases that will lead to more efficient, cost-effective programs that also are environmentally friendly.

Analysis also will establish a sound basis for continuous improvement as new, more effective solutions become available.
